

A call for submissions to

Cascade

Journal of the Washington Poets Association

All members of the Washington Poets Association are eligible to submit poems to Cascade: Journal of the Washington Poets Association, an annual, juried collection of poetry. Poetry will be blind-judged by a panel of independent judges. Top selections (one poem per selected poet) will be published in the journal. All WPA members will receive a copy of the journal (whether you submit or not, and whether your poem is selected or not) – our way of saying thanks for being a member and supporting our mission to inspire the creation and appreciation of poetry.

THE RULES

1. Contest opens February 1, 2007. Deadline for submissions is May 15, 2007. You may submit up to two poems. Please send two copies of each poem: one with your name, address, phone and e-mail on it and one without your name or contact information.
2. Complete and send this entry form with your poems. (Be sure to include the titles of your poems on the form.)
3. Include a self-addressed stamped envelope (#10) for notification.
4. If you'd like confirmation of delivery, include a stamped, self-addressed postcard.
5. Open to all members of the Washington Poets Association.
6. OK to submit previously published (but not those that have already appeared in a WPA publication) and award-winning poems.
7. Limit each poem to 60 lines or fewer.
8. Poems won't be returned. Keep copies for your records.
9. Entries must be postmarked on or before May 15, 2007.
- 10. All members receive a complimentary copy of the journal!
